Cross the Line

A best practice shared by Henno Janmaat.

Cross the Line

Draw a line in a room and have people position themselves along it to express agreement with statements.

Key steps

Draw a line in a room and put yes to one side and no to the other side of the line.

People express their opinion to statements, the further from the line the stronger.

Facilitate a dialogue between the person most left and most right, it is okay to move.

When you have no statement left, ask the group to produce a statement.
